WAYS AND MEANS.

Representative Springer's Address in New York Last Night.

OUTLINING THE POLICY OF HIS PARTY ON TARIFF LEGISLATION.

Evils Which Congress Will Attempt to Check—No Sweeping Measure Will Be Introduced—Poster of Ohio on the Silver Question—Other Addresses—Letters of Regret.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—The Tariff Reform Club held its annual dinner in the white and gold room at Sherry's to-night. The banqueting chamber was profusely decorated with roses, exotic flowers and palms. There were 150 guests present and the President of the club, Hon. E. Elmer, presided.

Amidst the crowded on either side of him on the dais were Hon. W. F. Vilas, Congressman W. M. Springer, C. S. Fairchild, Congressman C. P. Breckinridge of Kentucky, the Hon. N. C. Potter, Congressman Herbert of Alabama, E. H. Wheeler, Congressman Turner of Georgia, Congressman T. L. Johnson of Ohio, and Congressman Harter of Ohio. Among the guests were Henry C. Brown, White, E. F. Nichols, the Milwaukee Journal, W. E. Curtis, W. N. Singletary, editor of the Philadelphia Press, W. P. Biggs of the Baltimore News, Dr. J. Bryant; Dan S. Lamont and Count Kessler.

Letters of regret were read from ex-President Cleveland and United States Senator Hill. The letter of the ex-president was purely formal.

Toasts were responded to as follows: "The Presidents, now, how the Democratic party can serve it," the Hon. W. F. Vilas of Wisconsin; "The Committee of Ways and Means of the House of Representatives," the Hon. W. M. Springer; "Tariff Reform and the elections of 1890 and 1891," the Hon. Clifton E. Breckinridge of Arkansas; "New York's young Democracy," Milwaukee; "The House of Representatives," George Fredrick of Massachusetts; "The Democratic party and the silver question," the Hon. Michael D. Harter; "The effect of the tariff on the distribution of the products of labor," the Hon. John D. Long of Connecticut.

MR. SPRINGER'S SPEECH.

Mr. Springer reviewed briefly the history of the Ways and Means Committee of the House of Representatives, and the Committee on the Ways and Means Committee of the House of Commons, England. Continuing he said:

I presume, however, that the members of the Committee of the Ways and Means in this country and England as you are aware, are not the only ones who are members of that committee in the present House of Representatives. There are 150 members of the state and national measures will be reported by the committee hereafter. No definite information can be given as to the number of the members of the committee in the House of Commons, England, but it is safe to assume that the number will be about the same.

It is the desire of the committee to have the tariff as will in their judgment respond to the demand of the country for a genuine reform of the tariff. The Senate is not in agreement with the House in this respect, and generally speaking, any measure upon the tariff will be in the hands of the House.

FRANCIS GOES WITH THEM.

St. Louis and Kansas City Committees Start for Washington.

Gov. Francis will take breakfast at the Kansas City Committee delegation at the Union Depot this morning and will go to Washington with them.

The Kansas City Committee left that place last night, and the Governor got on their train at Jefferson City. The Kansas City men numbered about 150, and the delegation in two special coaches. Jerome Hill, Col. J. D. Broadhead and Col. Griff Frather, the Missourians, will be with them. The delegation will be headed by the Hon. Francis, and the position of the Democratic party in reference to the tariff will be the chief subject of their discussion.

The question which most concerns the Democratic majority in the House of Representatives, and the association of the members of the Ways and Means Committee, is the tariff. It is the desire of the Democratic party to have the tariff as will in their judgment respond to the demand of the country for a genuine reform of the tariff.

PUBLIC BUILDINGS.

Congressmen Know What They Want and Will Ask for It.HOW MISSOURI WILL FARE IN THE APPROPRIATIONS.Disappointment in Store for Many—The Session to Surpass All Others in the Number of Bills Introduced—News from the Social World—Kansas City
Moving on the Capital.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 16.—Notwithstanding Congressmen Holman's resolution and the cry of retrenchment and reform, the Committee on Public Buildings and Grounds in the House and Senate will adopt Senator Vest's idea and be liberal in their recommendations with respect to Government offices throughout the country. There was a meeting of the sub-committee of the House to-day and several public building measures which are before the committee consideration were taken up and the advocates heard. There is one case which comes from the State of Washington, and which promises to involve the enterprising Congressman from that State in serious complication. The member, Mr. Wilson, is very enterprising and has three bills for public buildings in that State pending before the committee. One he wants to send to another at Tacoma and a third at Spokane. The two other bills are for cities worthy of federal structures in the of post-office receipts and population, but Spokane Falls is below the minimum. When asked if he did not want a good deal in this year of Democratic retrenchment Mr. Wilson said if he could not get three two would do, and if he could not get two one would satisfy him.

When inquired of as to where he wanted his located, he answered, at Spokane Falls, his wife, who is from the state of the other two cities would not like this. There are two senators from Washington, who also want something of the kind, and with one of these and the other for Tacoma, how is Mr. Wilson to get a building for his own place? This triangular situation will likely put the young statesman from Washington to some sharp fitting.

Constituents of this Committee, receiving long petition from Warrensburg, Missouri, for a federal structure there; at this time he has nothing, there will be anything done which would entitle Warrensburg, unless Senator Cockrell, to whom he referred the matter, can do something in the premises. As it is the home of the senior Missouri Senator he no doubt will champion the cause of the petitioners.

John B. Tarnay of the City of St. Louis, with the Supervising Architect's idea, is disposed to favor the construction of Government buildings higher up in the air. At the Capital of the Missouri he has a building which is 100 feet high and there is a constant clamor for new buildings which should be built to a square foot, which is not at all appropriate. The Congressman favors the building which is to be built in the light and excellent ventilation. Mr. Tarnay agrees with the supervising architect on this point, and the supervising architect for Kansas City under the appropriation made for that place.

TO ELECT SENATORS.

THE PROPOSITION TO CHOOSE THEM BY DIRECT VOTE OF THE PEOPLE.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 16.—The proposition to elect United States Senators by a direct vote of the people may have advantages and disadvantages. The joint resolution of joint resolutions providing for an amendment to the constitution so that the proposition may become a certainty has been introduced. So much interest has been manifested in the subject, and so large is its support that the House and Senate are in agreement. The President, Vice-President and Representatives in which the joint resolutions were introduced, and the House and Senate to a number of representatives who have introduced propositions for the new manner of electing Senators.

Mr. Bryan of Nebraska, in advocating his measure, said he proposed a change in the measure, and he proposed an optional vote of the states to elect Senators by direct vote, or by other method.

Mr. T. C. Wisconsin advanced the following resolution, to each state an additional Senator for each additional million of population.

Mr. Davis of Tennessee and Mr. Johnson of Dakota advocated a general application of the amendments so that election by popular vote would be the same in every State.

LINDSAY DECLINES.

THE KENTUCKIAN REFUSES TO ACCEPT A PLACE ON THE INTERSTATE COMMERCE BOARD.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 16.—Judge William Lindsay of Kentucky called on the President to-day and declined the place on the Board of Interstate Commerce Commissioners, to which he was recently appointed and confirmed. The reason he gave for his action was the importance of his private engagements, which would have to be renounced in the event of accepting the office. Judge Lindsay enjoys the largest practice in the Kentucky bar, and besides is a member of the State Senate. The belief is that by refusing to accept the place he has given up his chance to become himself a candidate for the United States Senate at the next election for the seat which is now held by Senator Vest.

LOOKS SUSPICIOUS.

Williams Trying to Buy the Louisville Ball Club.

IMPORTANCE OF THE MOVE TO THE ASSOCIATION TEAM.

What Does the Revenging Magnate Want With the Club?—Funeral of "Silver" Flint To-Day—The Indoor Athlete Games Next Saturday—Fugilian, Bicycling, Base Ball and Other Sports.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 16.—George W. Williams, the Chicago base ball magnate and wynn to acquire an interest in the Louisville Club, has secured the transfer of Pfeffer from Chicago to Louisville. The Louisville directors will hold a meeting this afternoon, and it is said are very willing to sell Williams an interest. They also want Pfeffer upon any reasonable terms.

The above telegram is very significant in view of the threats made by Mr. Williams to the manner in which he treated him by overruling the Chicago Association Club after the merger of the two organizations at Indianapolis, at which the consolidation of the League and Association was perfected.

Williams is not consistent with the younger body the Chicago Club would withdraw from the Association and the whole of Milwaukee, Columbus and Louisville would wreck the organization and give the League a monopoly.

The WHEEL.

THE WESTERN LEAGUE A CERTAINITY.

CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 16.—The Pittsburgh baseball men appointed the manager of the Western Base Ball League has completed all arrangements and called a meeting for Thursday, Jan. 21, to be held at the Auditorium Hotel in this city, to complete the formation of the Western League. President James Hart says that the League will be organized in this city, to compete with Pittsburgh.

It is training Tom Callaghan at Pittsburgh's base ball club, and it is also likely that he "tipped off" Peter's hand to do with Pittsburgh's plan.

It is also reported that Hart and Callaghan are to be the managers of the new Western League.

Promptly at 5 p.m., Jan. 21, the first indoor athletic and cycle races ever held in the West will be started at the Armory under the auspices of the Missouri Bicycle and Athlete Club, to the spectators of which the various contests have been numerous, and exciting sport will be witnessed by all who attend. The racing programme is judiciously ordered and the prizes varied to attract and costly, representing a value of $600. The appearance of new stars in the track and field games will be a great attraction to the spectators.

"FORTY-EIGHTERS."

St. Louisans Who Took Part in the German Revolution.

THREE OF THEM MEMBERS OF THE REPUBLICAN CONGRESS OF BADEN.

The Last War Secretary of the Revolutionists Also a St. Louisian—Recollections of Mr. Daenzer, Dr. Preterius, Col. Flad and Mr. Uhlmann—St. Louisans Who Fought with Kossew.

Among the German speaking residents of St. Louis are several "Forty-eighters," who played quite a prominent part in the attempt to overthrow the crowned heads of Europe some forty-three years ago. There is Mr. Daenzer of the Wesleiche Post, yesterday recalling the names on the list of "Forty-eighters" of St. Louis. "He was a member of the parliament or congress or legislative body, whatever you want to call it, which the revolutionists of Baden organized, and was one of the leaders of the revolution. Another St. Louisian who was a member of that body was Mr. Leonhardt Roos who kept the nur store. Then there is Col. Robert J. Rombauer, who was an officer in the Hungarian revolutionary army, and his father was in it too, and his brother, Robert, who is now a member of the St. Louis Court of Appeals. Another officer in the Hungarian revolution was Col. Anselme Albert of the Assessors' Office and still another was Mr. S. J. Lang, the wholesale liquor dealer."

St. Louis had lost quite a number of her "Forty-eighters" by death or removal from the city, the doctor said.

Col. Fred. Hecker, while not exactly a St. Louisian, lived for more than a quarter of a century in St. Clair County, Ill., just across the river and was a regular contributor for years to the German press of this city. There is a monument erected to his memory in Benton Park. Hecker was commander of the first revolutionary army and after the collapse of the revolution he fled to the country and came to America. He returned to take part in the second revolution a few months later, but got there too late. Then he came back to America and settled on a farm five or six miles southeast of Lebanon, Ill. Hecker commanded an Illinois regiment in the war against the Southern Confederacy. Carl Schurz, the editor of the Wesleiche Post, in the management of the Wesleiche Post, and St. Louis was his home during that period, although he was in Washington a United States Senator or Cabinet Minister of the U. S. He was a member of the German revolution of '48 as well known to newspaper readers. He took part in the defense of Bautzen in Baden against the Government troops of Prussia, and after the capture of the fort he made his escape by crawling through a sewer with a comrade named Neustatter, and fled to Switzerland. Here learning that Prof. Kinkel, his old university teacher, had died in prison in Spandau, he disengaged himself and made his way to that city and succeeded in getting himself employed at the prison where Kinkel was incarcerated. He managed to get his old friend one of the Congressmen to make the necessary arrangements for his release. He was then taken to the North Sea and escaped from the country to England. In speaking of this matter yesterday Dr. Preterius said that Mr. Schurz would certainly have been exonerated had he been captured at any time after his release from Bautzen, as he was an officer in the Prussian Army when he joined the revolution. That however was forty and more years ago. Less than four years ago Mr. Daenzer, after several weeks in Germany, was received in the most cordial manner by Prince Bismarck and the Emperor.

Mr. Leonhardt Roos, who was with Mr. Daenzer and Mr. Von Rottbeck in the parliamentary body, was a member of the German army during the late war. After the revolution he was captured by Dr. Preterius, but was later released. He was then sent to Switzerland and from there went to Strasburg, then a French city, and in 1850 came to America for several years.

HORACE BOIES.

THE PORTRAIT OF A POSSIBLE PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE.

A Strong Personality—A Successful Farmer and Lawyer—An Earnest Advocate of Tariff Reform and Sturdily Opposed to Prohibition.

Special Correspondence SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH.
WATERLOO, Jan. 14.—Sixty-four years ago, in the latter part of John Quincy Adams' presidency, Horace Boies, now Governor of Iowa, was born in a snow-covered cabin in a little country village near Buffalo, N. Y. His father had been a cobbler, and in the year of 1812 and at the time of the boy's birth was sixteen years old. Living from a sterile farm. There never was a boy more completely destitute of prospects than this one, but he came of sturdy stock and his training strengthened the sturdiness which was a family characteristic. His father made him work on the farm during the summer and gave him the best of the very poor educational advantages to be had in the neighborhood. But, to say the best of it, was the absence of good schools. Horace Boies got a fair elementary education in books, which fitted him afterward to study the law. At the same time he never forgot to love farming and outdoor occupation and is to-day one of the largest and most successful farmers in his adopted State.

Although 64 years of age, he possesses the vigor of his prime. He is silver-haired, and the years of time have left many marks about his clear gray eyes, which are frank and youthful. His forehead is high and betokens intellectual strength. His nose is straight and large. His mouth and chin are strong and indicate great firmness and resolution. He is a good talker and a good listener, and tells and hears a good story well.

Twenty-five years ago Gov. Boies moved to Iowa and made his home in Waterloo. He had been admitted to the bar in 1853 and immediately took a prominent place among the lawyers of the city. He has always had some political experience, having served one term in the New York Legislature. He was 40 years old when he arrived in Iowa.

MAKER FARMING PAY.

He bought a small farm in the town and opened a law office in the city. He made money at the law, knew how to charge good fees and get them, and he invested his surplus in his farm. He is now the owner of one of the best farms in Iowa, and is one of the practical farmers of the country. He makes his farms bring him in an income, and he owns one in Grundy County, Ia., about thirty miles from where he lives, which contains 2,600 acres, and every acre of it is in a high state of cultivation. He has a herd of 200 head of cattle, and he has a farm of 100 acres devoted to stock raising. He knows every detail in the management of it and he spends a portion of every year upon it, often spending two or three months at a time. He is one of the fluent talkers and finished orators of this State.

THE LOCAL THEATERS.

COMEDY PREDOMINATES IN THE ATTRACTIONS FOR THE WEEK.

Stuart Robson's Elaborate Revival of "The Rivals" and "Heir-at-Law"; "Paul Kauvar," "U and I," and the Nelson Combination — News of the Stars.

The most confirmed pessimist as to the tendency of the American stage must admit that there is hope of redemption, when managers and actors revive the choices of comedy, give them rich settings and find the public eager to pay for the enjoyment which may be derived from their artistic reproduction.

St. Louis will have two attractions this week which give the lie to the prophets of evil concerning that stage. Stuart Robson's revival of "The Rivals" and "Heir-at-Law" will be presented at the Grand. The public has seen too little of this delightful work with its rich humor in characters and situations, its charming dialogue and amusing complications. It was last presented here by Robson and Crane before the dissolution of their partnership, but without the same success. In this production, in which Mr. Robson is said to have spared neither labor nor money to give the play an appropriate setting, he has mounted it with the most careful attention to details and the cast is said to have been selected with discrimination. Mr. Robson will himself, of course, play Tom Brumpton, in whose quips and pranks finds an excellent vehicle for his humorous talents.

Old English comedy rules also at the Olympic, where the Jefferson Comedy Company in "The Rivals" and "Heir-at-Law" in their second week, are nominally only one star in this admirable organization and he the model and choice spirit of American comedians, and there are certainly others here who are destined to give them rank in the select circle of the profession. It is hardly necessary to name Mrs. Drew, whose Mrs. Malaprop is an excellent creation. Viola Allen, who has charmed the audience in "The Standard," and Louis James, who takes the place of the late lamented Florence, and who is one of the most accomplished and versatile American actors. The cast of "The Rivals" only need be helped by the power of strength with Jefferson as Bob Acres, Mrs. Drew as Mrs. Brumpton, Louis James as Sir Lucius O'Trigger, Viola Allen as Mrs. Langtry, J. H. C. Clark, Jack Absolute, Fitzthugh as Faulkland, George W. Denham as David, Joseph Warren as Fane, and David M. Lucy. It will be rare fun to see which brings a combination together again which will equal this in respect to the public's favor. The other plays, excepting the Friday and Saturday nights, when Coleman's comedy, "The Hilarat-Law," will be presented, will be "Blue Jeans," a new and impudent production of Dr. Pangloss, L. D. and A. S. The organization will disband after this season, and will be succeeded in the upper next season in a handsome revival of "Up Winkie."

The Hagan will will have this week, beginning to-night, "U and I," one of the class of musical farces which was written for laughing purposes, but which has been entirely reconstructed. New music and specialties have been added and the great strength of the company remains. The first act represents the apartment of an actress, where through a mishap the two girls, comedians of the company, find their way out of this blundering complications arise. The third act represents a roof garden where scenes of real life are presented some realistic pictures of the French revolution and several stirring scenes and situations. It is said that the author, Mr. Knott, will be credited. Rosella Knott is the Diane and a capable supporting company is promised.

The Nelson's World combination opens at the Standard with a matinee this afternoon. The cleverness of the Nelson family in creating and managing, and the skill of the company being wonderful in point of quickness of strength and agility. They are assisted by a group of trained acrobats, including Miss Foggard with her trained cockatoos and performing dogs, La Belle Adams, a dancer, the French dancing troupe, Cark and Will, the comedians Hart and May, Collins and Welch, Little Beach and others.

Coulisse Chat.

The next Thomas concert will be given on Monday and Tuesday evenings, Jan. 8 and 9.

Henrietta Vaders, who is in the Keene company, will next week be joined by another prima donna. Both talented actresses of experience in the best class of work. They will appear in a repertoire of legitimate plays, including "Hamlet" and "Juliet," "Hamlet" and a new classic play, Henrietta will take the female roles.

Albert Galatin, the leading juvenile of the Keene company, is a native of St. Louis, and bears a name which occupies a prominent place in the list of famous names. His grandfather was Gen. Albert Galatin, once Secretary of State, and his father was a senator from West Virginia. He is rapidly rising in his profession, and has received high praise for his work this season. She is as witty as was Talma.

It is the intention of Mr. A. & T. to use

"Aspera," which is credited with being the greatest of the famous productions to have been given this week, with novel features and improved specialties.

The next comedy, "U and I," will be used by Frank Daniels as "Little Puck's" successor.

It has not yet been given a name. It is from the pen of Walter Potter, and is an adaptation of a French farce, which had a long run in Paris several years ago.

During a recent performance at the Derby Theatre, a fall of a balcony, a gallery and a marble walk, off the stage, upstairs, and into the audience, caused a washed critic, who was removed on a stretcher.

Arrangements have been completed for the new season here shortly of Charles Frohmann's company, which is to be a able exerciser of the blues, Gillette's enterprising production, "All the Comforts of Home," which is the master work from the pen of the author.

To remove any possible doubt as to the nature of W. T. Scanlan's madady Dr. Spitska, the brain specialist, he has confirmed Mr. Alan McLane Hamilton's diagnosis, pronouncing it a clear case of insanity.

The disease varies; sometimes it progresses rapidly, and again it moves slowly, but it is a veritable history of comparative lucidity.

Opera singers like critics, disagree sometimes, Laura E. Egan, the soprano, the "Cavaliere Eustachio," was the most difficult she had ever sung.

Whereupon Emma Egan, the soprano, and Paul Kauvar, Mr. Kauvar's son, were and his wife, the most difficult she had ever sung.

AUGUSTIN DALY PRODUCES A PLAY WITHOUT ADA REHAN.

"The Cabinet Minister" Did Not Contain a Part of Sufficient Importance—Play Pirates Still Abroad in New York—The New Productions.

Special Correspondence SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH.

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—It is no new thing nowadays to steal a play, although it is considered in correct form to refer to the process as adapting. It is maligned for a young man to do this, but it is not the only way.

Miss Gertrude Schuyler, who is a famous dramatic actress, has assumed her dramatic role which she assumes. She is also a painter and conscientious worker.

Miss Lucy Turner, who is piquante and bright in dramatic parts, was booked for the opening of the new season at the Grand.

Invitations are issued and each one who se-sures the compliment must pay $5, which goes toward defraying the expense of "The Club," but the $5 can only be given by those to whom the cards are sent.
